A Chance to Play at One of the Best Courses in New England

BERNARDSTON, MA — On Friday, May 31st at Crumpin-Fox Club golf course in Bernardston, MA, the Greenfield Knights of Columbus, Council #133, will host their 6th annual charity golf tournament. This year the Greenfield Council #133 recognizes The United Arc as their tournament partner.

“All of us at The United Arc are honored to be chosen as the Knights of Columbus, Council #133, partner for their 6th annual charity golf tournament. Their support of our work to ensure full community inclusion for individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities shows their commitment to the community as a whole,” Lynne Bielecki, Executive Director of The United Arc, said.

Golfers will have the opportunity to play a course that continues to be recognized for its excellence. Crumpin-Fox Club golf course was honored by Golf Advisor as #2 on their 2018 Top Courses of Massachusetts list. Reviews of the course range from “immaculate condition” to “a beautiful course cut out of the woods.” The club was established in 1969 as the “field of dreams” of David Berelson. There were some hiccups along the way to perfection and under the direction of Roger Rulewich and Robert Trent Jones, the site of Bernardston, MA was chosen and the course was opened in June 1990.

Zeke's Grill specializes in simple comfort food done right—from clubhouse nachos to specialty burgers and sandwiches.
